

The Growth of Zion—Benefits of Seeking Counsel From the More Experienced

Discourse by Elder Brigham Young, delivered at the General Conference, on Tuesday Morning, April 8, 1879.

Opening of the Last Dispensation—Development of the Work of God—Sending Forth Missionaries—Usefulness of the Sisters—Improvement Associations—Education—Cooperation

Discourse by President John Taylor, delivered at the General Conference, Tuesday Afternoon, April 8, 1879.

Manifest Blessings of God to the Saints—Proper Education of the Young—Infidelity the Result of Ignorance

Discourse by Elder Moses Thatcher, delivered at the General Conference, Tuesday Afternoon, April 8, 1879.

Duties of the Saints in Temporalities—Implicit Obedience Requisite—Church Interests Carefully Guarded—Gathering the Poor—Home Industries

Discourse by Elder Joseph F. Smith, delivered at the General Conference, held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, April 8, 1879.

Blessings of the Gospel Only Obtained By Compliance With the Law

Discourse by Elder Lorenzo Snow, delivered at the General Conference, Salt Lake City, Monday Morning, April 7th, 1879.

Parable of the Fig Tree—The Rise of the Latter-Day Work—Organization of the Church—Its Subsequent Progress and Development—The Manner of Calling God’s Servants—Duties of Church Officers—The Saving Power of Truth—The Disobedient and Idle Condemned—Liberality of the Gospel Plan

Discourse by Apostle Erastus Snow, delivered at the General Conference, on Sunday Morning, April 6, 1879.

Influence of the Latter-Day Saints—Their Mission—The Marriage Relation—Capital and Labor—Religious Liberty

Discourse by Elder George Q. Cannon, delivered at the General Conference, on Sunday Afternoon, April 6, 1879.

Discourse by Elder Orson Pratt

Delivered in the North Branch Meeting Room, of the London Conference, on Sunday Evening, March 9th, 1879.

The Interest of Humanity Should Be Observed

Discourse by President John Taylor, delivered in the Ogden Tabernacle, on Sunday, March 2, 1879.

The Natural Weakness of Men—The Necessity of Charity—The Purpose for Which the Gospel Was Revealed—The Spirit that Should Prevail Regarding Cooperative Institutions—The Folly of Dissension

Discourse by President John Taylor, delivered at Kaysville, on Sunday Afternoon, March 2nd, 1879.